COLLEGE OF NATURAL HEALTH

WELCOME TO

Endeavour

Endeavour College of Natural Health is the largest private Higher Education provider of natural medicine courses in the Southern Hemisphere.

From our humble beginnings in 1975 with just 16 students, today we boast over 4,000 students and 400 staff across six vibrant campuses in Brisbane, Gold Coast, Melbourne, Perth, Sydney and Adelaide*.

With experienced lecturers, cutting edge curricula, and Australia's largest choice of natural health degrees, Endeavour is committed to the growth and prominence of natural health in Australia and around the world.

Why Endeavour?

Studying natural health can help you follow your dreams to a career in Nutrition and Dietetic Medicine, Naturopathy, Acupuncture or Myotherapy. Endeavour is at the forefront of education in the natural health sector, with a national footprint of six campuses and teaching clinics, and highly trained and experienced lecturers, tutors and clinical supervisors.

Endeavour is closely aligned with professional national and international associations. This helps to ensure our curriculum is industry standard and aligned with traditional philosophies, while also giving students strong networks within the industry.

We believe in holistic health and a holistic philosophy. This is demonstrated in our teaching in the classroom and in the wider support Endeavour provides students throughout their learning journey. With the support of our lecturers, students benefit from a personal approach in our smaller classes and real-life experience in our onsite student clinics. This business minded focus coupled with one-on-one time with experienced professionals sets Endeavour students in good stead when they graduate and become practitioners themselves.

HELLO Australia!

Known for its stunning nature, gorgeous weather and relaxed lifestyle, it's no wonder Australia is one of the happiest countries in the world. Endeavour has six campuses* across Australia giving you the freedom to choose where to live and study. Whether you're looking for a bustling urban lifestyle or chilled beach vibes, each city offers something unique.

From its red centre to its blue oceans, it's easy to escape the city and explore what this amazing country has to offer. Jump in the car, hop on a plane or board a train, here are just a few ideas for a weekend getaway or mid-session break:

OUR COURSES

Bachelor of Health Science (Acupuncture)

CRICOS Course Code: 027955D

Acupuncture is a branch of Chinese Medicine that stimulates specific points on the body in order to regulate the flow of Qi (vital energy) to balance the functions of the body, mind and spirit and to restore health. Chinese Medicine combines theory (philosophy and principles) and practices such as acupuncture, Chinese herbs, Chinese dietary therapy, Qi Gong, and massage (Tui Na).

This four-year full time course provides graduates with the knowledge and skills to become successful acupuncture practitioners. As well as foundation studies in Traditional Chinese Medicine, the course includes appropriate Western medical sciences, interpersonal skills, research methodology, in-depth studies of clinical acupuncture, and elective units on topics of special interest.

Career paths:

Acupuncture graduates usually enter clinical practice, either alone or as a partner in a healthcare clinic. Other employment opportunities include research, social welfare and in community health service settings. Endeavour's Bachelor of Health Science (Acupuncture) degree graduates may apply for membership of the Australian Acupuncture and Chinese Medicine Association Ltd., Australian Natural Therapists Association, Australian Traditional-Medicine Society and the Federation of Chinese Medicine and Acupuncture Societies of Australia Inc.

Bachelor of Health Science (Naturopathy)

CRICOS Course Code: 028648G

Naturopathy is a whole medical system combining theory (philosophy and principles) and practice that uses an array of natural therapies to support healing and maintain health. Its core principle, "the healing power of nature", guides the naturopath's use of nutrition, dietary counselling, herbal medicine, manual therapies, flower essences, lifestyle education, homeopathy and other modalities to treat illness and restore health.

Naturopathy uses the holistic principles of Hippocrates to treat the underlying cause and the whole patient, not just the symptoms, to educate the patient and develop preventative measures to reduce recurrence. The naturopathic clinician facilitates this process through teaching and providing a range of holistic medicines.

The study of naturopathic discipline includes herbal medicine, diet and nutrition, flower essence therapy, nutritional supplementation, naturopathic diagnostic techniques including iris analysis, along with a general understanding of many other forms of therapy.

Career paths:

Naturopathy graduates generally enter clinical practice, either alone or as a partner in a healthcare clinic. Other exciting career opportunities include education community health service settings, social welfare, sales, manufacturing and working in health retreats.

Bachelor of Health Science (Myotherapy)

CRICOS Course Code: 089453B

Myotherapy is a branch of manual medicine that focusses on the treatment and management of musculoskeletal pain and dysfunction. Myotherapy involves an extensive physical evaluation and an integrated therapeutic approach in the treatment of affected muscles, joints and nerves.

Myotherapists assess and treat the musculoskeletal system using various specialised soft tissue techniques. These include myofascial release techniques, muscle energy techniques, neuromuscular techniques and stretching techniques to prevent and alleviate pain and enhance movement and function. Myotherapists can significantly contribute to the fields of pain management, acute and chronic injury, and rehabilitation.

Career paths:

Myotherapists may practice independently as a sole trader, or provide treatment in conjunction with other healthcare professionals in a multidisciplinary setting. Myotherapists commonly work alongside other allied health practitioners such as medical practitioners, physiotherapists, osteopaths, chiropractors, acupuncturists and naturopaths. Other career options include working with sporting teams, working in rehabilitation or community health services centres.
